

We're working towards Artsmark
Awarded by Arts Council England

March 24th, 2020

Hello lovely, slightly bonkers, superbly-fabulous 5H!

I hope you are all feeling fantastic. Your teacher here with a weekly message for you:

- 1) Please check the website for this week's work schedule if you haven't managed to already; you are all doing so well in Year 5 and I am very proud of you all. This work will help you keep practising what we have learnt so far.
- 2) Send some photos (to the shared Year 5 email address) of anything fun you have been doing at home or any pieces of work you have completed which you are proud of! I would love to see these.
- 3) Challenge of the week: Write a silly poem! There is an example at the bottom of this email from the poet, Neal Zetter, who came to our school recently. I will write my own with the help of Sloth and send it out in my next email.
- 4) Have you done something kind and helpful for someone who looks after you at home? If not, ask what you can do to help and don't forget, keep washing your hands!

Our world has to be one big team at the moment – let's be the best we can be 5H. Looking forward to hearing from you! – Miss Herron

What Do You Do When There's Nothing to Do? By Neal Zetter

What do you do when there's nothing to do?

Do you grow a moustache?

Play your cousin's kazoo?

Do you start to count up to two trillion and two?

When there's nothing to do

What do you do when there's nothing to say?

Do you hop till you drop?

Feed your dog fromage frais

Do you walk round the garden and paint the grass grey?

When there's nothing to say

What do you do when there's nowhere to go?

Do you cut all your nails?

And then clean out your nose?

Do you eat cans of baked beans until you explode?

When there's nowhere to go

What do you do when there's nothing to watch?

Do you talk to a tree?

Sing a song to a rock?

Do you sit in the fridge till your freezing knees knock?

When there's nothing to watch

What do you do when there's nothing to do?

Do you learn to speak Dutch?

Maybe practise kung fu?

If I'm bored I write poetry - that's what I do

Perhaps next time you can try it too

When there's nothing to do