

We're working towards Artsmark
Awarded by Arts Council England

January 8th, 2020

Dear Parents/Carers,

In order to develop pupils' love of reading and encourage children to be engaged in reading, we would like to trial a 'come and read to your child' session in Flamingo class.

Parents are invited into the classroom from 2.45- 3.10pm on a Tuesday afternoon, and this will commence on Tuesday 14th January. The day of the week will change each half term as we recognise that many of you have work commitments on specific days. You can attend these sessions as frequently as you wish.

You will need to bring one of your child's favourite books to the session. We then ask that you read your child's chosen story to your child, and any other children who wish to listen to that same story during the session. All children will have an opportunity to listen to a story of their choice either read to them by a parent or class teacher.

You will be able to access the classroom via the external classroom door. Prams will need to be left under the shelter on the EYFS playground.

We look forward to welcoming you in.

Kind regards,
Mrs Jones, Mrs Cook and Mrs MacDuff