Dear Parents/Carers,

Re: Announcements via the Class Charts Parent App and Parents' Evening

We have been using the Class Charts system at Hayes Primary School since 2016.

As a parent, you are able to access the Class Charts system using your own account linked to your child. When you log in, you will be able to view the number of green points awarded and see their up-to-date attendance.

Announcements

A recent update to the Class Charts system also allows you to receive 'announcements' about your child's work in school. This means that teachers will be able to share pictures of specific pieces of work with you at home. We hope that this will give you the opportunity to celebrate your child's successes at school.

Your child will be bringing home a letter containing their unique access code this week. If you have previously registered for the Class Charts App, you do not need to do this again.

Parents' evening

As we are unable to facilitate parents' evening in the same way this year, between now and the Christmas Holidays, we will be sending some examples of your child's work home via the announcement function on Class Charts. You should expect to receive one post with an individual piece of work and one whole class post.

Moving forwards, the announcement function will be used on an ad hoc basis to recognise and celebrate your child's work as and when work it is appropriate.

Attached is a guide that we have created for using the Class Charts parent app.

We hope that this will provide you with more opportunities to share in your children's successes at school and strengthen our partnership between home and school.

Yours sincerely

Mr Vitarana
